

The Pequannock Township Public Library presents:

Pompton Mutiny: New Jersey's Revolutionary War History
With: Tom Riley, Member of Highlands Historical Society and Pequannock Township Historical Society

Thursday, March 9th, 7 PM
Please call (973) 835-7460 to reserve a seat

After enduring the hard winter encampments at Valley Forge in 1777-1778 and Morristown in 1779-1780, many Continental Army soldiers had reached their breaking point. Tom Riley shares the story of the Pompton Mutiny with a reenactment of this pivotal period in American History.

Tom holds B.A., M.A., and M.Ed. degrees and taught history in Bloomingdale for forty years. For twenty of those years he also served as an Adjunct Professor at Sussex County College. He is a member of the Highlands Historical Society and the Pequannock Township Historical Society.
